

Hello from Clay County Habitat for Humanity!

Clay County is located in Northeast Florida just south of Jacksonville, just north of St. Augustine: it is a great place to live, a unique place to visit, and an awesome place to build homes! We would be thrilled to have you partner with us during Collegiate Challenge.

Our affiliate is 34 years old—it really had its start in 1977 when a caring group of people began Greater Penney Farms Partners with the vision to help their neighbors repair their homes and lives. Realizing the nature of the Habitat program was a natural extension to their work, they became Clay County Habitat for Humanity, Inc. in 1987.

Clay County Habitat for Humanity (CCHH) serves five areas: Orange Park, Green Cove Springs, Middleburg, Keystone Heights and Penney Farms. To date, we have worked alongside 126 families who have restored dignity and now thrive in safe, decent homes . . . 220 children with their own bedrooms, and backyards, and big smiles. We average about five homes each year, both new construction and rehab. Your group's involvement in Collegiate Challenge here would get our new year off to a roaring start!

Take some time to look at our community and what we've been able to achieve. Think about the legacy you would leave here . . . our work changes lives, not just lives of Habitat families but of all those who are privileged to take the journey with them.

Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful citizens can change the world. Indeed, it is the only thing that ever has.
